Spirit of '76 Spirit of '76 Spirit of '76 Spirit of '76

The Spirit of America has shown itself many times since that first shot at Bunker Hill. It has shown in times of war and in times of peace. The Constitution, the Civil war, the Industrial Revolution, the Roaring 20's, the Depression years, the World Wars, the space shots, and Moon landings. That's the spirit that has kept America going. Look around. The spirit is everywhere. When worse comes to worse you can fall back on that spirit and you know it'll bring us through. When worse becomes better and best you can see that spirit causing some kind of celebration. Americans always find something to celebrate. That spirit was carried down the line in many ways; song, dance, theatre, folklore, legends, poems, novels, newspapers, and simple word of mouth. That spirit was in minds of men from John Hancock to George Washington to Abe Lincoln to . . . you. You are an American. You're part of that spirit — that spirit of '76. It gets bigger and bigger with every child that is born. That spirit shows in everyone of us, in everything we do. Our high school years teach more about that spirit. How to make it, how to use it, and how to understand it. Freshman year we enter these orange and yellow halls of the blue and gold. Our identification pictures are taken and they give us a number (that's part of the spirit). The first bell rings and you're off and running for four years of high school. The first big event is Homecoming. As a class you gotta have a skit, a float, a flag football team, spirit day teams and two representatives. As an individual you gotta have the guts to ask for a date or to say aye or nay to the young Rudolph Valentino. After Homecoming festivities are over you feel that spirit inside start to focus on school. You take a little pride in this school. As the year goes on you become more and more confident until you walk into one of the johns and get smoked out. You usually find yourself going backwards in the lunchline. That spirit starts getting stirred. You start trying to become involved in other things. It works.

of '76 Spirit of '76 Spirit of '76

A black and white portrait of a young man with shaggy, light-colored hair and bangs. He is smiling broadly, showing his teeth. He is wearing a light-colored, collared button-down shirt. The background is slightly out of focus, showing what appears to be a classroom or office setting with a bulletin board.

and enjoying and rejoicing and wondering and asking and telling and complaining and existing in ole everyday high school daze.
 That's really a wonderful sprit. It is the spirit inside all of us that makes this wonderful nation what it is today. Some say the greatest American was George Washington or Abe Lincoln or John Kennedy, others say Babe Ruth or Neil Armstrong.
 Perhaps now Gerald Ford or Walter Cronkite. But what makes them great? Their greatness comes from you and I.
 Americans. People that are free, people caring for one another. People with a spirit that at no time another nation has seen. 200 years ago the spirit of 76 delcared it's independance. Happy 200th America. The spirit of 76 shall live forever.

The 75-76 Turner wrestling team had another trying season. The Trojan grapplers had a 1-12 record and finished in last place in the conference, but all the wrestlers tried their hardest. This was Coach McCreary's first year at Turner, and he was working with many inexperienced wrestlers, developing them for future seasons. The team placed second in the Albany Invitational and fourth in the Dodgeland Invitational.

This year's Trojan basketball team ran into lots of bad luck, finishing with a 5-9 conference record and a 7-11 overall mark. Despite the unfortunate happenings, the basketball season did produce some bright spots, like the upset win over Columbus on their home court, and the good attendance and vocal support from Turner students. The junior varsity was 6-12 and the freshman team was 4-8. Good luck to all three teams.

Editors

The editors you see, and others, are responsible for putting the yearbook together in a form that's neat and readable. Special thanks should be given to these people who racked their brains setting it up, putting both their time and effort in a cause which they felt to be worth while.

Photographers

The photographers are the people you see running around snapping everyone's picture when they're not looking. These people took the pictures that made up this yearbook — the pictures that you will one day look back upon as memories.

Other Workers

I think these people should have as much credit as anyone because these are the people who got the thousands of errands done. They ran around in circles making sure everyone got their assignments in on time by doing typing, getting material, and helping to write the copy which you read throughout the yearbook.

The 1975-1976 Varsity Cheerleaders did a great job in getting the fans in the spirit for the football and basketball games. The cheerleaders work especially hard during the homecoming season making the posters and planning the pizza party for the student body and players of the football team.

Wrestling Cheerleaders

WRESTLING CHEERLEADERS: (BELOW) Jenny Sims, Janet Hentsch, Collee Holleman, Debbie Palazzolo, Debbie Rickels. This years wrestling cheerleaders did a good job of cheering at both cross country meets & wrestling matches. They cheered the cross country team to a great season and helped everyone get in the spirit of the wrestling matches.

Mr. Dahlke has done a marvelous job with all of the choirs this year. Two concerts, the Christmas and the Bicentennial, have been held already, and another is planned for spring. Both the solo — ensemble and choir contests will be held at Turner for the first time ever. We wish the choirs luck, and hope their contests will be great successes.

Band

The 1975-76 school year was a busy and prosperous one for the members of the Turner High School band, and their director, Mr. Becker. Included in the years activities were marching shows at football games, pep band performances at basketball games, appearances at both the U.W. Platteville and U.W. Whitewater band days, as well as participation in contests and concerts. Perhaps the most memorable performance of the year was the "Prince of Peace" jazz/rock Christmas Cantata played by the Jazz Band at the mid-winter "Pops Concert." The Jazz Band also took part in competitions in Green Bay, Whitewater, and the district solo ensemble contest, held at Turner.

Returning members of the group can look to the '76 — '77 year to be even more successful and enjoyable than ever before.

Valedictorian

The Valedictorian for Turner this year is Dan Forbes. Dan had the highest point average in his class over the past four years in high school. Congratulations to Dan for this honor.

Salutatorian

Jim Moen is Turner's Salutatorian for this year. The Salutatorian is the person with the second highest grade point average during the four year period of high school. Congratulations to Jim.

Badger State Representatives

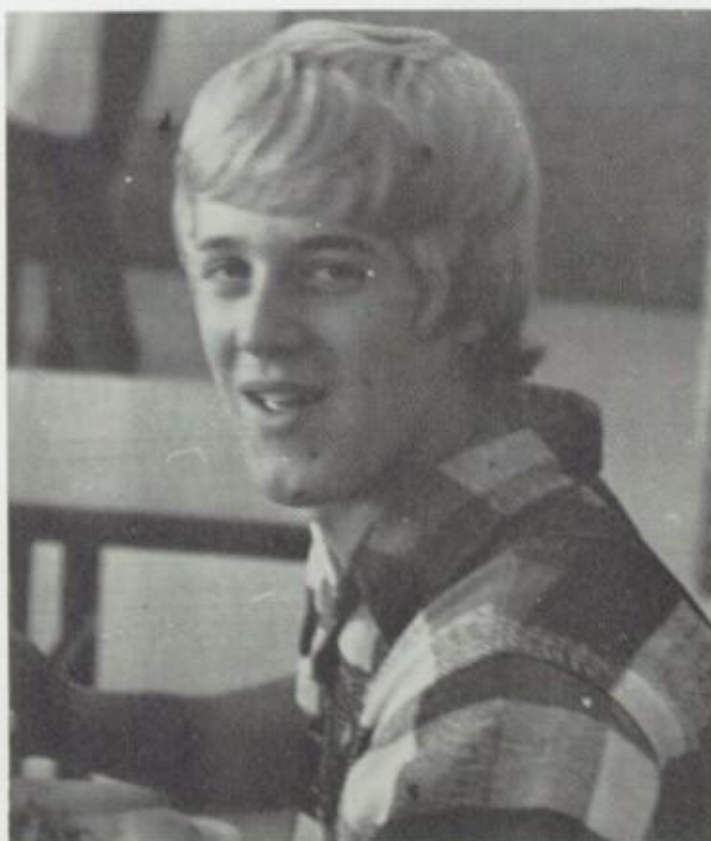

Representing Turner this year for Badger State: Kris Van Kampen, Lori Mascharka, and Dan Forbes

Badger State is held each year sometime during the month of June. Badger Boy's State is held in Ripon, Wisconsin and Badger Girl's State is held in Madison, Wisconsin. Two boys and one girl are chosen from the Junior class each year to attend Badger State. Representing Turner this past year were Kris Van Kampen, Dan Forbes, and Lori Mascharka. The Badger State representatives are chosen on a basis of scholastic standing (grades in the upper third of their class), extra curricular activities (athletics, music, clubs and organizations, journalism, and speech), and their adaptability to the Badger State Program (must have leadership, ability to assume responsibility, to organize work, character, Americanism, and physical fitness.) While attending Badger State, the students learn about the American government and how it is set up. They learn by going to lectures, attending classes, working with others, and visiting places of government (the Badger Girls attended the State Capital for a day and sat in on a government meeting.), and by running for office themselves within the Badger State group. The program lasts for a week.

The alternates for Badger State this year: Jerry Schiefelbein and Debbie Gault.

AFS

This year's AFS Student is Vicky Espinoza. Her AFS sister is Cindy Wepking. Vicky is originally from Lima, Peru. While at Turner this year, she was active in the Girl's Volleyball Team and the AFS Club. It was fun having her at Turner and she will be missed by all of the many friends she has made here at Turner.

Christmas Skits

On December 23 the Student Body was directed to the gym for our annual Christmas Program. The program included skits given by the Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior classes and the drama club. For special entertainment, folk singer Robbie Clement. We ended with a Christmas in Peru described by Vicky Espinoza. Ice cream bars were handed out from the Student Council.

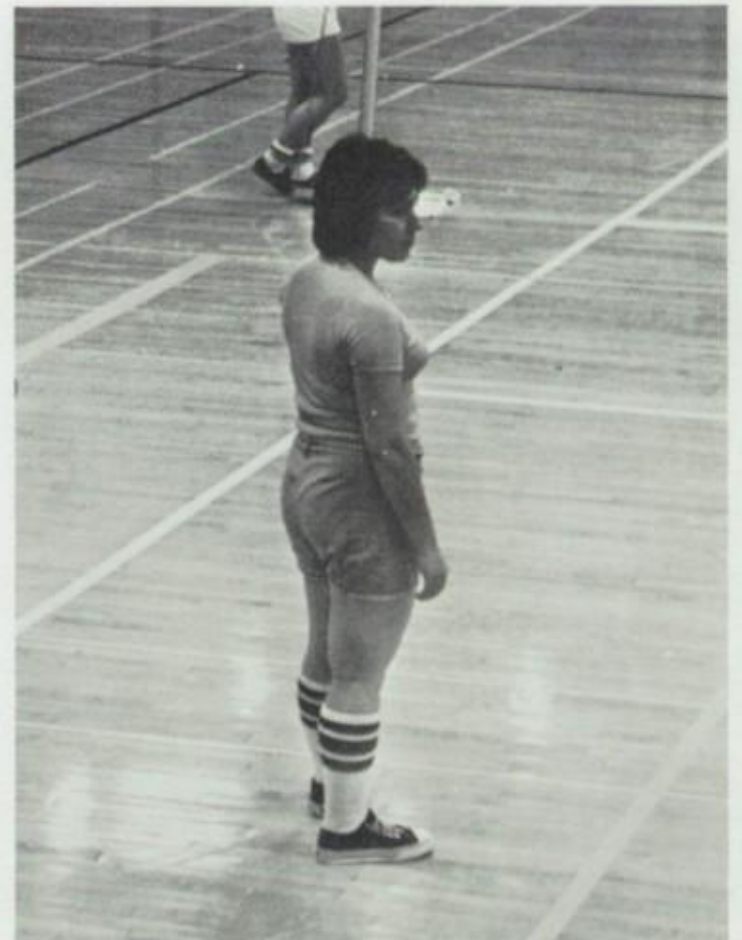

Christmas In Peru

This year our A.F.S. student is from Peru. She is Vicki Espinoza. During our Christmas assembly she spoke to the student body on the differences in Christmas in Peru and America. One of her main comments was the difference in the weather at this time of celebration. At the end of her speech she presented Mr. Beardmore a typical Christmas ornament of Peru. (in picture below) We are all happy that she has been able to share with us such a happy holiday.

Senior Grub Day

Senior Grub Day: When the Senior Count-down reached the point where there were only "76" more days left before Graduation the Class of 1976 held their Senior Grub Day. It has been the tradition for the Senior Class to set this day aside to grub up and celebrate. This year the Senior class mainly dressed up in a Bicentennial manner to celebrate the Spirit of 76.

"Our Town"

"Our Town" reaches into the past of America and evokes movingly a way of life which is lost in our present turmoil. An original and extremely interesting play."

(New York Sun)

Turner High School's production starred Yvonne Coan as Emily, John Prieve as George, Kris Van Kampen as the Stage Manager, and many others in a cast which performed Mr. Wilder's play with distinction. "Our Town" was presented by the Turner High School Drama Club and was directed by Mr. David Dumke.

THE FIRST 200 YEARS

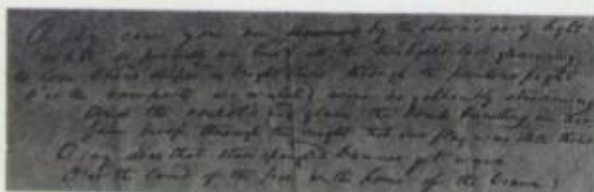

A knowledge of American history is an invitation to experience the accomplishment, drama, tragedy and hope of an infant nation struggling to grow up. Sturdy, determined pioneers hacked away at the edges of a raw continent and, with blunders and achievements alike, modeled a country with a spirited nature and a united commitment to individual liberty for every one of its citizens. Americans, great and not so great, have given us a heritage to carry on and improve upon. Farmers and soldiers, industrialists and merchants, dreamers and leaders, are all there in two centuries of progress.

But the maturing isn't finished. You'll find the boundaries of growth as endless today as when our forefathers first envisioned them. You can seek out your own destiny with the wisdom and judgement which comes with re-creation of the past. Your knowledge, dreams and industry will carry on through many more centuries of living history.

CHAPTERS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

The Stamp Act of 1765 was an attempt by England to tax items that were wholly American. The colonists reacted in seething resentment which erupted into angry protestations. The first blood of the American Revolution was spilled during one such incident at Boston in 1770. Several Americans lost their lives over a snowball thrown at a British sentry.

In the fight to achieve commerce equality, the United States found itself in a naval war over shipping lanes. Fort McHenry was heroically held during a British naval bombardment, and the stars and stripes still flew after a night of hard fighting. The next morning Francis Scott Key penned the immortal words of what would become the national anthem.

Settlers had to have permanent access to the new lands, so canals and bridges were built to carry stages and wagon trains loaded with machinery destined for settlements in the West. The pioneers foresaw great wealth in the cheap acreage that was available.

Frontiersmen cleared the wilderness, built settlements and drove back the Indians. The Pony Express and the telegraph became primary means of communication.

Agriculture was the wealth of the country. American inventions of the time were often related to working the soil. The McCormick Reaper, mowing machines, textile looms and the cotton gin were instrumental in the settling of new frontiers.

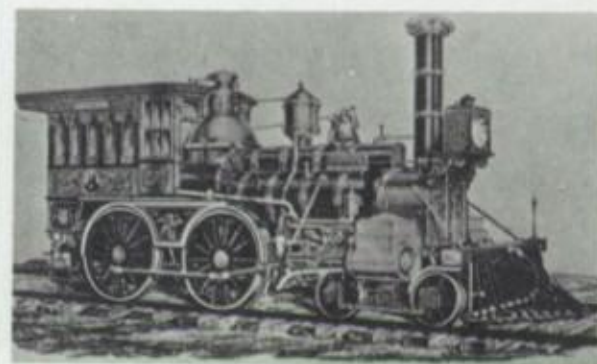

In 1848, James Marshall found gold in the race of a sawmill he was building for John Sutter at Coloma, California. The lust to "get rich quick" was the force behind this biggest and gaudiest gold rush ever.

While "gold rush fever" gripped the country, states were increasingly more divided on the slavery issue. Civil war broke out in the East. This "Brothers War" was bitterly fought and, though the scars remain even today, slavery was abolished.

Cities grew at an alarming pace; often without regard to the limits of safety. The great Chicago fire of 1871 burned the bustling cattle market empire beyond recognition. But the pioneer spirit was not broken. Chicagoans began rebuilding and preparations were underway to celebrate the 100th birthday of the country.

The "Iron Horse," carrying homesteaders, greatly helped settlement of the new country. The first transcontinental railroad connected the country at Promontory Summit, Utah, on May 10, 1869.

Transportation was setting the pattern for the American way of life. The country became a mobile society with electric trolleys, automobiles, farm machinery, and bicycles, all the rage. Along with the accessibility of travel came a new era of nationalism.

A World War called upon the nation's young men to unite and fight. After the war in Europe, the nation pulled itself together and industry flourished once again. A carefree America buried war memories in the new moving pictures, telephones, light bulbs, electric generators, stock market ticker tape machines, phonographs and a wealth of inventions from the fertile minds of its young inventors. Baseball became the national sport and prohibition was law.

Black Thursday, October 24, 1929, saw the American stock market crash to the lowest level in history. Panic set in as the unemployment level skyrocketed. The country was in its worst economic crisis. Slowly, but surely, the wounds of the "crash," the "dust bowl," and poverty healed.

The steel industry geared up for the revival while rumors were whispered in the Roosevelt administration of another impending war. The nation's leaders scoffed; until December 7, 1941 . . . Pearl Harbor!

Industrial production reached a peak during the war years. Upon their return from four years of battle, the veterans forged ahead with an eye on a "better life for everyone." Several moderate recessions in the 50's and 60's reminded cautious citizens of past decades.

Huge strides were being taken in the scientific field. Television became a part of every family's life. National events were household topics — while they happened — thanks to the new medium. Individuals and groups were seen "on the tube" as they advocated new social reform, or justice, or special causes of their own. TV gave individuals and political systems power greater than ever before. Audio-visual journalism had made its impact.

Nearly 100 years of struggling for civil liberties were realized when President Lyndon Baines Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act of 1964 into law. The Act outlawed segregation in any form.

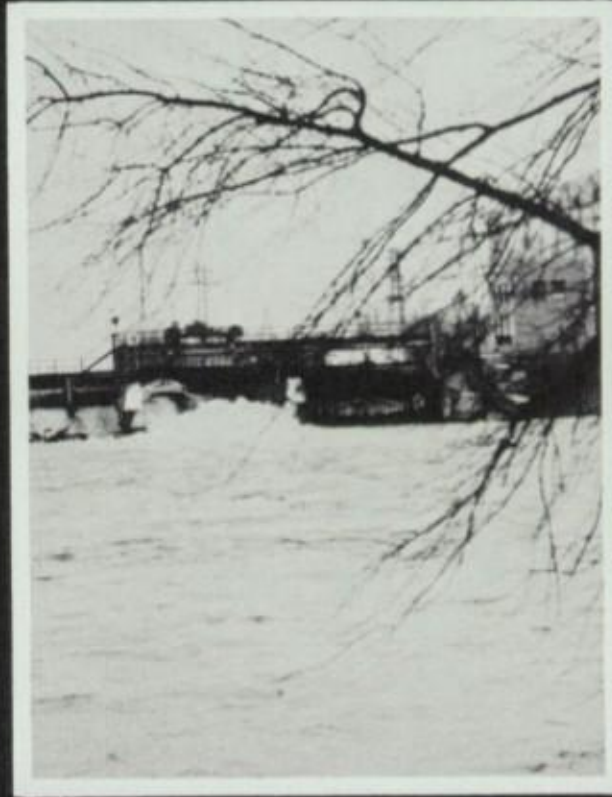

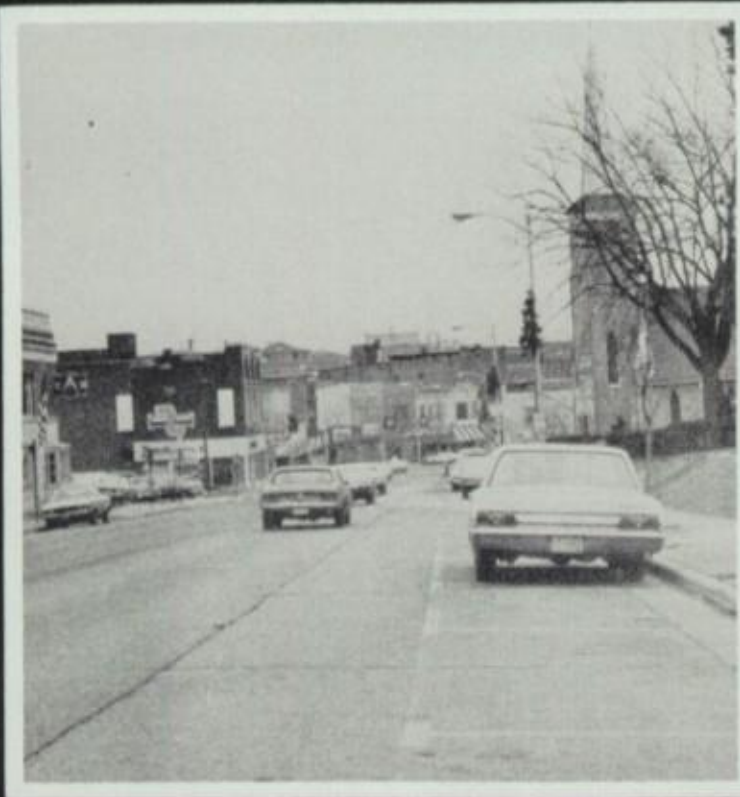

The seventies shed light on a new trouble for the nation as it approached its 200th birthday. The world's energy sources and natural resources were being used up faster than they could be replenished. Americans once again waded into a new frontier. The "energy crisis" and "ecology" were prominent words in the language. Ways to save nature from the neglect of mankind and ways of preserving precious fuel without damaging that balance of nature were the objectives of Americans across the country.

Earth's crises spurred Americans into further pioneering. This time . . . outer space. American astronauts were the first on the surface of the moon and the U.S. was first to build a "sky-lab" for more scientific study.

American is still learning and growing after a mere 200-year infancy. The original determination of our forefathers was told again in the words of Neil Armstrong as he made the first step on the moon . . . "a small step for man, but a giant step for mankind."

Looking Back Over The Years

A Note From The Editor:

It has been the tradition every year for the yearbook staff to set aside a page to give thanks to those who have helped to make the yearbook what it is. A yearbook staff usually consists of an advisor who makes sure the editor is organizing the yearbook and assigning the work to the staff members, the editor who makes sure all the work is getting done correctly and on time, the staff members who do the layout finals and tons of typing, and a photographer who tries to make sure the staff has enough pictures for their section. Our staff was smaller than usual this year, but those who did help really put their effort and LOTS of extra time into the yearbook. Thanks go to Lisa Scott, Terri Stolpher, Robin Roecker, Wendy Miller, Ruth Hebb, Mark Wagoner, Lynn Walters, Diane Scharff, Candy Meyer, Jim Meyer, Paul Meyer, Marion McGavock, Lisa Mascharka, Brad Wentworth, and Gail Slaymaker for all the time you guys put into the yearbook. And thanks to Steve Tucholka, our photographer, for all the pictures — even though we did have some close calls with those pictures! But you always came up with them just in time for the deadline. You really helped alot, Steve and we appreciate it alot. The ad section wouldn't be as unique and well thought out as it is if it weren't for Kris Van Kampen. You did a fantastic job with the ads, Kris, and your work is, as always, appreciated. Thanks also goes to Kris for the Theme section. Lots of long hours after school and on weekends (one particular weekend especially!) went into putting the theme section together. It turned out great Kris. And VERRRRRY special thanks goes to Mike Sklavos, our advisor. I wouldn't be the least bit surprised at all if he isn't on the verge of taking tranquilizers by now. The yearbook had it's share of close calls, missed deadlines, undeveloped pictures, forgotten pages done at the LAST minute, stolen and/or lost pictures, lost yearbook equipment (such as job stamps, copy keys, and grease pencils, etc.). The famous saying he had to listen to time after time was "Well, I just FIGURED that someone else did that!" or else, "But, I thought that was HIS job, not MINE!" Well, it's been alot of hard work and fun times and laughs at the same time, and although we also had alot of hectic and worried times (and LOTS of grumbling) the yearbooks still ended up turning out pretty good. I don't think anyone really can appreciate a yearbook a whole lot until they become a staff member and see all the work that goes into making a book. The yearbook staff hopes you all enjoy your book and keep it to remember your high school days.

But Remember

Although parting is such sweet sorrow,
